Biographical note

Francis B. Randall was a member of the humanities faculty at Sarah Lawrence College from 1961 to 2002, specializing in Russian history. He was born in New York City in 1931 and received his BA from Amherst College in 1952, MA (1954) and PhD (1960) from Columbia University. Prior to his time at Sarah Lawrence, he taught history at Amherst College from 1956 to 1959 and Columbia University from 1959 to 1961.

He published many works throughout his career with a particular emphasis on Russian and Soviet history.

Scope and Contents note

The collection consists of published and unpublished writings by Francis B. Randall spanning 52 years. Included are original manuscripts, publications, scholarly papers, book reviews and many personal accounts of his vast world-wide travels, all written by Randall.

The collection is divided into two series:

Series I. Published Writings

Series II. Unpublished Writings

Each series is arranged alphabetically, by title of the work. A bibliography created by Randall is in the first folder in Series II.
